Welcome back Shawano Folk Music Festival veterans. We missed you! And a hearty welcome to the new folks as well. We love seeing new faces. After cancelling the festival in 2020 and holding a mini-festival last year, we are so pleased to be back at Mielke Park. Our theme this year is Music Under the Trees Again. As you stroll through the park, you might see bald eagles nesting. The music will fill the air as you visit the crafters, enjoy the great food, check out the CDs, and enter our quilt raffle. We have extra parking this year and three outdoor stages for the daytime programs. Our dedicated volunteers work hard to bring you an outstanding festival. Say hello if you see them wearing our volunteer t-shirts. Feel free to stop by the festival office if you have questions or suggestions. You are an important part of our festival and we value you. We’re glad you’re here!

On behalf of the entire Planning Committee, Linda Blohowiak, Emma Czarapata and Mary Ryan, the 2022 Directors

We Sing for You

We honor those who’ve helped this Festival grow. Some sang on our stages, some influenced us from other stages, and others worked behind the scenes. They all helped build the Festival with love, labor and laughter, each in their own way. Some have passed on since we last gathered, and others still here. This year, we sing for all of them. And for you.

Some are gone too soon . . .

Sandy Cook (1938-2018) was an artist and music lover who worked in the Festival office and filled us with joy.

Larkin Bryant Cohen (2021) was a gentle soul who brought sweet dulcimer music into our hearts.

Nancy Griffith (1953-2021) touched the festival from afar, blending singing, storytelling and a crystal voice.

Dave Habeck (1958-2020) loved music and taught Shawano how to play guitar.

Oscar Mederas (2022) was a Festival volunteer, always there with a smile and a joke.

John Prine (1946-2020) wrote songs that never let us go. Sad songs, silly songs, beautiful songs. We sing ’em all.

Michael Peter Smith (1941-2021) created magic with his wit, charm and quiet elegance. His songs live on.

Bill Staines (1947-2021) was a troubadour and a gentle soul whose music made life a little better for us all.

. . . and others are still with us.

Dorothy Owen & Joanne Frank are part of the heart of this Festival. For decades, they’ve swapped stories with musicians in the Green Room. For many musicians, memories of Shawano will always begin with Joanne and Ownie. They’re not able to work this year, so they join you in listening. If you find them in the audience, say “thank you.”

Kazuko Rand is part of what makes this festival so special. A Master at Ikebana, the ancient Japanese art of flower arranging, she taught us how to see. And for many years, Sunday mornings at the Festival included the beauty of the Japanese Tea Ceremony she demonstrated for us with her husband, David Rand.

Artists

Pat Wiley says he’s been playing and writing music for “50 years or so.” His bluegrass and old time roots shine through when he plays guitar, fiddle and banjo (and a little button accordian). They show in the traditional music he plays, the songs he writes and the dances he brings to life. He got the music genes from his family, a combo of West Virginians and Wisconsin Northwoods folks. In 1979, Pat was a performer at the first Shawano Folk Music Festival. Since then he’s joined us on stage as a musician and an MC, doing both with humor and grace. He serves as our 2022 Honorary Director. More at facebook.com/pat.wiley.14473

Art Stevenson and High Water is Pat Wiley’s “Director’s Choice.” They’ve kept traditional bluegrass music alive in WI and surrounding states since 1993, preserving a hard-driving traditional bluegrass sound while including other musical styles. Their repertoire comes from many sources: bluegrass classics of Bill Monroe and the Stanley Brothers, early country music, mountain songs, and new material. Guitarist, singer, and harmonicist Art Stevenson (Babcock, WI) organized Art Stevenson and High Water in 1993. He sings lead and plays rhythm guitar and harmonica. Dale Reichert (Custer, WI) sings baritone and bass, playing banjo and Dobro. Bruce King (Wauwatosa, WI) plays mandolin and keeps the rhythmic groove going when he’s not exploring the mandolin fretboard as a soloist. Bruce sings lead, tenor, or baritone. Bruce Royal King (Milwaukee, WI) joined in 2021. Yes indeed, he’s the mandolin player’s son! Along with his hard driving bass, Bruce Royal sings lead and harmony. More at www.highwatermusic.com

Josh White, Jr. started performing with his legendary father Josh White at the age of four, at New York’s famed “Café Society” night club (America’s first integrated nightclub). Since then, he’s worked as a secular folk/blues, pop & jazz vocalist, guitarist and songwriter. He’s an actor, a performer and recording artist, teacher and social activist. In all those things, he’s won major awards and accolades – a list as long as your arm – performing in some of the most prestigious venues in the world. He was the first artist authorized and invited to sing a set of inspirational songs at New York’s hallowed Ground Zero site. A kindergarten classroom just might be his favorite place to perform. He says, “Children are our most important natural resource. Music and fun are what I have to give back to them.” Performance Magazine says, “Here is a performer who knows dynamics and takes the audience right into his world. There aren’t many solo acoustic artists with the confidence, talent and professionalism of Josh White, Jr.” The Philadelphia Inquirer says, “White has the harmonic finesse of a jazz performer, and his style is still one of the most recognizable and polished sounds in all folk music.” More at joshwhitejr.com

Wade Fernandez/Wiciwen Apis-Mahwaew (Walks With The Black Wolf) is the Festival’s 2022 Directors’ Choice. He’s a multi-award winning international touring artist from the Menominee Nation. Wade began his solo career joining Jackson Browne & the Indigo Girls onstage and it’s led to a long career with over 60 international tours and concerts both rocking and soothing. Wade is a singer, a teacher, a songwriter and a master of both the guitar and Native flute. Whether he’s performing or teaching, his Menominee Reservation roots shine through, showing his love of the land, the people and the animals. Wade will be joined by his daughter Cedar and his son Quintin. More at www.wadefernandezmusic.com
Anne Hills is one of the most beloved voices in folk music. She’s received recognition for live performances, solo and collaborative projects, overall artistry and benefit work. Her song “Follow That Road” has been a folk classic since the late 1990’s. Whether she’s singing her own songs, the words of six-year-old Opal Whiteley, or her song settings of the Hoosier poet James Whitcomb Riley, she puts her whole heart into it. Anne tours widely, pleasing audiences with warm, lively and humorous performances. Tom Paxton says, “Anne Hills is such an exquisite singer that it’s understandable that people might be swept up in the pure beauty of her voice and thereby overlook her writing. That would be a mistake. For me, Anne’s writing, in songs like ‘Follow That Road’ and many others, is as direct, melodic and deep as any work being done today. She is quite simply one of my absolute favorite songwriters.” More at annehills.com

Indigie Femme is an award-winning duo from Santa Fe. Their powerful performances ignite our collective consciousness, bringing hope and healing to Mother Earth. They connect the Northern and Southern Hemispheres, weaving the cultural matrilineages of Dine (Black Mountain, Arizona, USA) and Maori, Samoa (Aotearoa - New Zealand). Joy shines through Tash Terry and Elena Higgins’ dynamic performances. They combine thought-provoking lyrics with powerful voices and fuse it all together with guitar, harmonica and a variety of percussion instruments - cajun, medicine drum and djembe, leaving their audiences spellbound. Artists

Bounding Main sings rich harmonic versions of traditional and contemporary maritime-themed songs. They fill their shows with spirit, humor and harmony. They bring the listener into the world of pirates, adventure and romance. Each member of Bounding Main — Dean Calin, Christie Dalby, Gina Dalby, Jon Krivitzky, and David Yondorf — is a music and theater veteran, with diverse entertainment backgrounds. They have performed at music festivals, nautical festivals, major tall ships events, maritime museums, Renaissance faires, folk music venues and corporate events on both sides of the Atlantic. More at www.boundingmain.com

Crystal River Trio has performed the kind of folk music many of us grew up with since 1981. A self-taught guitarist, Gary Arndt plays mandolin, bouzouki, ukulele, 5 string banjo, tenor banjo, tenor guitar and harmonica. Peter Bartman sings lead and low harmony, and plays bass, bodhran, penny whistle and fiddle. Jay Smudde plays six and twelve string guitar, banjo and mandolin as he sings lead, high and low harmony. Sing along with them as they revive the songs you love. More at crystalrivertrio.com

Carolyn Carter has a clear voice that soars over the Ozark Mountains of Arkansas. Her songs tell of the simple joys and sorrows of life. They bring us home, no matter where we live. She sings traditional mountain music, country, folk, gospel and original songs in an unforgettable performance. We’re happy she’s come back one more time. Carolyn’s appearance is sponsored in part by Ron Dennis. More at www.arkansas-gospel.com

Jahmes Tony Finlayson is a performing artist, mystic, musician, poet, teacher, percussionist, master accompanist, collaborator and Reiki practitioner. He has performed at schools, houses of worship, festivals, museums and an array of other venues. He’s worked with the World Music ensemble, One Drum, The Ko-Thi Dance Company, Wisconsin Conservatory of Music, First Stage, Renaissance Theatre Works, Milwaukee Chamber Theater, and other musical and theater groups. In all of them, bringing people together is at the heart of his work. As Jahmes says, he comes from the root that brings people together. We welcome his return to Shawano.

Zander Raymakers is a 10-year-old “concertina playing kid” from Pulaski, WI. He started bouncing around to polka music when he was a baby and never stopped. His concertina playing started when he used a slinky to mimic a concertina. He took a few lessons when he was 8, but it didn’t keep his interest. A year later Zander picked up a full-size concertina and hasn’t put it down. He formed his own band, Zander’s Music RayMakers. He’s played with Mollie B and Squeezebox, Chad Przybylski and His Polka Rhythms, The Natural Talent and Polka Dynamics. He’s played at Pulaski’s Polka Days, and we welcome Zander to his first time at the Shawano Folk Music Festival.

Fox and Branch create an atmosphere of fun and high spirits when they play. Everyone has fun, especially the audience. In fact, Dave Fox and Will Branch erase the line between stage and audience, creating a big group having fun together. The audience is invited to sing along, dance, and come onstage to try the washboard and other musical instruments. Based in Milwaukee, Fox and Branch delight audiences wherever they go. They’re winners of five Parent’s Choice recommended awards. More at www.foxandbranch.com

Cory Arndt comes from Appleton, WI with an interest in song and story, both traditional and contemporary. Raised by a folk musician, traditional songs were what Cory heard growing up. When he started playing guitar as a child, those traditional tunes were what he learned. Cory has a love for the romantic tunes that weave their way through folk music, especially when they tell a compelling story. Cory is a luthier, and the owner of Ardent Guitars in Appleton. This is Cory’s first time in Shawano.

Door County Sound is the “unsung” artist that makes the weekend work. Steve Ellmann and his crew take the music from the instruments and voices onstage and they make sure you hear it exactly as the musicians want you to hear it. It’s a tall order because every musician, instrument and stage comes with its own set of challenges. Steve and his crew meet them all.

More Music

The Shawano Stage is where you'll find some accomplished musicians who live in the area, including Randy Bruce, who wrote “Goin’ Back to Shawano” way back in 1972, seven years before there was a Shawano Folk Music Festival. On Saturday, Randy will host his Shawano friends at Pond View Glen on “The Shawano Stage.”

Green Apple Folk Music Society will host the Pond View Glen stage on Saturday. They'll introduce the day’s music, and ask you to sing with some of their favorite sing-along artists. It’s what they do best! Green Apple is home to folk music enthusiasts in Northeast Wisconsin, sponsoring local, regional and national artists in concert. They also host many chances to sing and play together. To learn more, go to www.greenapplefolkmusic.org

Black Hawk Folk Society presents some of the finest professional folk, bluegrass and Americana music in Central Wisconsin. In addition to monthly concerts in Mt. Morris, they host a Second Saturday Concert Series, and in July, a folk music festival. They will host the Pond View Glen Stage on Sunday. We welcome Black Hawk to the Shawano Festival. More at www.blackhawkfolk.org

There’s a Dance! Sunday afternoon we’ll dance in the Food Tent. Pat Wiley and Zander Raymakers will provide the music for some good old-fashioned family dancing, including some good polkas and barn dance music. All you need is feet that wanna move.

Open Stage - Open Mic It’s a folk music tradition. Just sign up for a spot and show up with your instrument or your voice. We’ll provide everything else. Whether you’re a beginner or a seasoned pro, the stage is yours. Sign up at the Food Tent.
When I say “good,” you say “neighbor.”

The Quilt Raffle is a Festival tradition. Every year, talented and generous quilters donate a handmade quilt, and we offer you a chance to take it home with you. This year, the quilt is something special. It’s got a Wisconsin theme, featuring 3 historic places in Door County. It’s awash in violets, the Wisconsin state flower, and is full of the names of the state’s places and people. With a lilac back, this quilt is springtime in Wisconsin. The quilt is 86” x 62”. It was made by Kay McClone, and was donated by Jennifer Maltbey of Bolt & Skein, a quilt supply shop in Shawano. It’s beautiful, and it could be yours. In addition to this beautiful quilt, the raffle gives you a chance to win CDs from festival musicians, and handmade items from crafters.

“Only the pure in heart can make a good soup.
Ludwig van Beethoven

The Songbird Café is back again, serving gourmet food to satisfy body and soul. Soup, sandwiches, salads and fresh fruits. Sweet treats include a refreshing homemade sorbet, cookies and bars. It’s not fancy. It’s just good food prepared by Wayne Czypinski and friends. All proceeds benefit the Shawano Folk Music Festival. (Thanks to Voyageurs and Nueske’s for breads and meats.)

Shawano Boy Scout Troop 32 will fire up their grills to serve burgers, brats, hotdogs, chips and beverages. On Sunday we all look forward to their fresh, hot donut holes! In between cooking and serving good food, the Scouts assist with keeping the grounds looking good, and help musicians move equipment. These boys have been a big part of the Festival for many years. Please support them.

And More ... Look for other good food and beverages in the Festival’s Food Court.

Crafters, Artists and Writers

What’s a folk music festival without the crafters and artisans who make things by hand?

The paths that wind through Mielke Park are lined with artists and crafters. Handmade instruments. One-of-a-kind jewelry. Handmade soaps. Baskets. Paintings. And stories! Artists and crafters always have stories to share. Share some of your own while you’re there.

Don’t forget to ask them how they do what they do. While some art forms can’t be easily demonstrated away from the studio, many will be happy to show you how it’s done.

Pick up a full list of the Festival’s 2022 artists and crafters. You’ll find it at the gates and the Festival Office.

“That’s the thing with handmade items. They still have the person’s mark on them, and when you hold them, you feel less alone.”

Aimee Bender, American novelist and short story writer

Need Music?

Festival musicians have CDs and other items to sell. The Music Sales booth is next to the Festival Office. It’s where you’ll find the musicians’ CDs, books, shirts and other items. Makes it easy to take some of the music home with you. After all, Christmas always comes, and someone on your list would love some music. Get a head start.

Or just listen in your car on the way home.

“I love the way music inside a car makes you feel invisible. If you play the stereo at max volume, it’s almost like the other people can’t see into your vehicle. It tints your windows, somehow.”

Chuck Klosterman
American author & essayist

40 Years! 40 Artists! 40 Songs!

A Limited Edition 2-CD set of music from the first 40 years of the Shawano Folk Music Festival. It showcases the amazing range of music we treasure in a collection you won’t find anywhere else!

Available in the Music Sales Booth.

Parking
We’ve added more room this year, but Parking lot space is still limited - please don’t use more than one space!
- Parking Lot on Airport Road and Cty. H
- Parking Lot on Cty H. on north side of the park (was Bullfrog Flats Stage)
- Street parking available on Cty. Rd. H. (watch for “No Parking” signs)
- Handicapped Parking: Inside the park. Ask at the gate, and you’ll be directed in.
- Performers and Vendors: We’ll direct you to a parking space inside the park. Enter from Airport Road. Please don’t take a space in the lots meant for attendees.

“Values are like fingerprints. Nobody's are the same, but you leave 'em all over everything you do.”
Elvis Presley

Directions
Check road construction and detours before you leave home.

From Green Bay (about 45 min)
- Hwy 29 West to Exit # 227 (Hwy 47/55)
- North on Hwy 47/55
- It becomes Cty HHH (Airport Rd) at Green Bay St. (Perkins is on the corner) Go straight about a mile
- Mielke Park is on your left
